Engagement for a Better World: A Conversation Starter for Funders and Nonprofit Engagement for Organizations

Driven by the power of volunteer energy and grounded in comprehensive research, the Initiative for Strategic Volunteer Engagement will be held in Iowa this summer. Participants will engage in hands-on workshops and collaborative learning and will be able to engage in conversations on innovative approaches to volunteer management for sustainability and growth. Organizational leaders will engage in a diagnostic assessment to gain personal insights into how they engage volunteers. They will then participate in a cohort-based training, individualized coaching, and certification to create and implement an organizational strategy to effectively engage volunteers throughout the organization.

There are two remaining ceremonies to be held yet this year: Storm Lake and Ottumwa ceremonies will take place at a later date. The ceremonies featured remarks from Governor Kim Reynolds, local government officials, and honorees sharing their experiences. Local volunteers were honored for their service to Iowa communities. Our guest speaker was Donya Jenkins-Gai. We also invited members who had been serving all program year to attend and thank them for their service to Iowa communities. Our guest speaker was Donya Jenkins-Gai.
