Volunteer Iowa VISTA Program Update

The Volunteer Iowa VISTA team had a busy month of enrolling new members, showcasing one of our projects with AmeriCorps staff, and gathering the whole VISTA crew in a one-day poverty training. On August 8th the Volunteer Iowa team joined by Jancy Lafollette with AmeriCorps Headquarters, Kristin Honz and Meghann Henry with the AmeriCorps North Central Regional Office participated in a site visit in Neola, IA. The visit was to learn about the VISTAs serving with NAMI Southwest Iowa and how their service has impacted the organization and community. The work the VISTAs are doing have increased the organization's ability to bring more people together to support mental health, develop programming and expand to new areas in southwest Iowa.

A week later, on August 14, VISTA members, leaders, and supervisors gathered at Blank Park Zoo in Des Moines for a day full of training and activities. VISTA leaders facilitated a panel discussion with three AmeriCorps alums: Anna Nalen served two terms with Campus Compact MN/IA and as a VISTA Leader with Iowa Council of Foundations; Donya Jenkins-Gai served with Volunteer Iowa as a VISTA Leader; and Daniel Warfel, VISTA member with Volunteer Iowa. The big takeaway is that no matter how small your work may feel you are making a big difference.

Two others joined us to discuss poverty in Iowa: Kelli Soyer, United Ways of Iowa provided a glimpse into the challenges individuals and families considered ALICE (Asset Limited Income Constrained Employed). This was an overview of what the poverty in Iowa is like. Sarah Trone Garriott of DMARC led the VISTA team in a Hunger Simulation. During the presentation she gave us insight into her personal background story of her VISTA term of service, working in food pantries, and how she is championing food insecurities in Iowa.

Welcome Tanya Chlopek!

Volunteer Iowa welcomed Tanya Chlopek to the team on July 22. She is serving in the role of AmeriCorps Seniors Program Coordinator. She will be working with RSVP volunteers in western Iowa. Tanya comes to us from a previous role as Senior Companion Manager for EveryStep, where she recruited volunteers aged 55+ to give back to their communities. Prior to that, Tanya worked as a volunteer coordinator for hospice companies and has done some bereavement work as well.

Tanya grew up in Plattsmouth, Nebraska, and earned an associate's degree in healthcare administration from Southeast Community College, a bachelor's degree in behavioral science from Bellevue University, and is currently working on her master's degree in healthcare administration from Western Governors University.

Tanya enjoys spending time with her husband and two daughters traveling, swimming, attending concerts and playing board games. They spend a lot of time attending various school events and activities. A fun fact about Tanya is that she is terrified of birds. She served for four years in the JROTC and has CNA/CMA certifications. We are thrilled to have Tanya on our team!
